

SCSBOA Music Lists Submission Guidelines

2022-23

The SCSBOA membership is encouraged to submit worthy compositions to be considered for addition to the SCSBOA Music Lists. Remember that all ensembles performing at SCSBOA festivals must play one selection off the SCSBOA Music Lists. If you have a selection approved for our music lists, you can use this piece immediately as your required selection during our 2023 festival season. The process of submitting a piece for consideration of addition to our music lists is a relatively simple process:

- 1) Provide the name, composer, and publisher of the composition.
- 2) Suggest the SCSBOA numeric grade-level classification you believe to be appropriate for the composition.
- 3) Provide a digital copy of the complete score. This can be emailed either as a link to a sample score provided by the publisher, or a scanned copy of the original score.
- 4) Provide a link to, or attachment of a recording of the composition. This can be in the form of a URL link to an online recording or an attached mp3 file. A Score and Sound link can suffice for this requirement as well (but does not fulfill requirement #3 above).

When emailing submission materials please send them to:

IMPORTANT POLICY CHANGE FOR 2022-23!: The SCSBOA Music Literature Committee is in the process of curating a revision of our entire set of SCSBOA music lists. Because of the extensive work involved in this project, we request that you only submit a piece that you intend to play this year at festival, and that you limit your submissions to one per ensemble attending festival SCSBOA Festival this year. Submissions that exceed this limit will not be considered this year.

Please allow several weeks for the review of your submission. If you are hoping to play the submitted piece as your required selection for festival this year, it is especially important to allow sufficient lead-time for consideration. The deadline for submitting scores for consideration to the SCSBOA Music Lists for the 2023 festival season is February 6th, 2023. This deadline must be strictly observed in order to evaluate all scores and publish our 2023 Music List Addendum in time for our first festivals of the season.

Sincerely,

Paul Bluto
